

STONEWALL LESSON PACK -

LGBT History Month 2021

This LGBT History Month, we're focussing on the lives and work of some courageous LGBT women. LGBT History Month was founded by Schools Out, who have been campaigning for LGBT inclusive education for 47 years. Due to Covid-19, we've created home learning packs as well as lesson packs to ensure that your learners can benefit from the lesson content wherever they're learning. You'll find the home learning pack that mirrors this lesson pack on our website. Each lesson pack has a PowerPoint and resources that you can use to support your whole class teaching. Adapt the content to best suit the needs of your class and to fit the amount of time you have available. We have also developed packs on this theme for learners with SEND/ASN/ALN – these can be found on our website.

Who are Stonewall?

This resource is produced by Stonewall, a UK-based charity that stands for the freedom, equity and potential of all lesbian, gay, bi, trans, queer, questioning and ace (LGBTQ+) people. At Stonewall, we imagine a world where LGBTQ+ people everywhere can live our lives to the full. Founded in London in 1989, we now work in each nation of the UK and have established partnerships across the globe. Over the last three decades, we have created transformative change in the lives of LGBTQ+ people in the UK, helping win equal rights around marriage, having children and inclusive education.

Our campaigns drive positive change for our communities, and our sustained change and empowerment programmes ensure that LGBTQ+ people can thrive throughout our lives. We make sure that the world hears and learns from our communities, and our work is grounded in evidence and expertise.

Stonewall is proud to provide information, support and guidance on LGBTQ+ inclusion; working towards a world where we're all free to be. This does not constitute legal advice, and is not intended to be a substitute for legal counsel on any subject matter. To find out more about our work, visit us at www.stonewall.org.uk.

Learning objective: To analyse the role of key figures in influencing social change

Activity	Details	Resources
Starter: Change makers	Share the LO. Ensure that learners understand what is meant by 'social change'	 Inspirational women Post-16 PowerPoint Inspirational women Post-16 evidence pack
	Challenge the students to name as many women involved in bringing about social change as they can. Give them 2 minutes to complete the challenge.	Inspirational women fact files – Post-16
	Share some of the names as a group. Where had the learners heard about the women? How many were celebrities? How many did they learn about at school or college? Did the women belong to particular movements? How many women of colour did they name? How many disabled women did they name? How many of the women were LGBT?
	If some women weren't represented, why might that be? Discuss the impact racism, ableism, homophobia, biphobia and transphobia has on whose voices are heard within society?
Individual/pairs: What was her impact?	Introduce the 5 inspirational LGBT women. Learners should choose a woman to research. Refer back to the LO and agree the success criteria.
	They should use a range of research methods to answer the question: What did this woman do to contribute to social change and what has been the impact of that change on our lives today?
	Learners should use the fact files and 'evidence pack' provided, plus any additional resources they identity, to complete their research. They should ensure that they have used a range of evidence.

	They should present their answer however they see fit, but some options could include: • A PowerPoint presentation • A magazine feature or newspaper article • A one minute video • A segment for a podcast
	If learners under 18 are using online research materials, please use the websites and videos recommended in the research pack to ensure that the content they are accessing is appropriate. Always remind learners of safe internet use.
Plenary: What do you know?	Discuss each of the 5 women and ask learners to share the findings of their research. Were there any differences in the approaches that different women took? Do learners think those same women would have used the same approach to bringing about social change in 2021 as she had in the past?

Catherine Duleep Singh

Catherine Hilda Duleep Singh was born on 27th October 1871. She had 2 sisters, 3 brothers and 2 half-sisters. Her father was Maharaja Duleep Singh, former ruler of Punjab, India. However, he had moved to England after he was deposed by the East India Company. Once in England, he married Catherine's mother Bamba. The family lived in Elvedon Hall, which was very extravagantly decorated. However, when Catherine's father went to India to try and re-establish himself, Catherine and her sisters moved to Hampton Court Palace. This move was on the invitation of their godmother, Queen Victoria. Catherine made her debut and was 'presented in court' in 1895.

Along with her sister Sophia, Catherine was a strong supporter of the suffragist movement which aimed to secure women's right to vote. She was a member of the Fawcett Women's Suffrage Group as well as the National Union of Women's Suffrage Societies (NUWSS) and was involved in numerous events and dinners in support of the movement.

Catherine took the opportunity to tour India in 1903 before she moved to Germany in 1904. She lived in Germany and Switzerland with her partner, Lina Schäfer. Lesbian relationships were frowned upon at the time, however historical archives make no mention of the Duleep Singh family ever being unsupportive of Catherine.

Life in Germany during the rise of the Nazi Party became increasingly difficult for Catherine as a lesbian woman of Indian heritage. Despite this, Catherine and Lina lived in Germany until Lina's death in 1937. They were able to help numerous Jewish families escape Nazi run Germany in order to seek asylum in the UK. This is something Catherine continued to do after Lina's death and, upon her return to England, she offered German-Jewish refugees somewhere to live.

When she died in 1942, Catherine had been living in Buckinghamshire. She was cremated, and quarter of her ashes were buried next to Lina's coffin in Germany. The remainder were taken to India. In 1997 a Swiss bank account and deposit box were discovered, and it emerged that they had belonged to Catherine and Lina. There was widespread speculation that the deposit box may have contained rare and valuable jewels, however it actually contained a relatively modest amount of money.

Gail Lewis

Born in London in 1951, Gail Lewis is best known for her work in the Black Women's movement in London. As a teenager, Gail became involved in organisations such as the Black Liberation Front and went to some feminist events. However, she found it hard to be involved in feminism because so much of feminist discussion centred on white middle-class women.

Gail was initially apprehensive about going to Black Women's groups, for fear of homophobic discrimination. However, she decided that the aims of the Brixton Black Women's group were important enough that she ought to pluck up the courage and try. It was some time before she came out to the group, and for a while she was the only openly lesbian woman.

Brixton Black Women's group was formed in the 1970s as a response to racism and police attacks on Black people, and as a place for women to discuss the impact of colonialism and capitalism. Initially a study group, it soon became a community base and a campaigning organisation that aimed to represent Black women in a way that other feminist organisations didn't. The women initially had meetings in each other's homes, but in 1970 they opened the Brixton Black Women's Centre. Their work gradually developed into an organisation that foregrounded women's relations as the object of political change. As the original members of the group moved on or got tired and as both Black political activity and women's political activity changed, the group eventually dissolved.

Gail was also involved in forming the Organisation of Women of African and Asian Descent (OWAAD) in 1987. They campaigned around a range of issues impacting Black and Asian women, including immigration, domestic violence, school exclusions, health, policing, and reproductive rights.

A published writer, academic and trained psychoanalyst, Gail is still an active contributor to the feminist discourse. She currently works as an academic with a specialism in psychoanalytic and sociological approaches to gender studies.

Jan Morris

Jan Morris was born in Somerset in 1926. However, because she was trans, she was raised as if she was a boy and did not change her name until the 1960s. Jan's first job was at 16, as a reporter for Bristol's 'Western Daily Press'. However, Jan's career as a journalist had to be put on hold when she went to fight in World War 2.

By the time Jan was 22, the war had ended, and she had a job working for the 'Arab News Agency' in Cairo. It was there that Jan met her wife Elizabeth. As this was prior to Jan's transition, their marriage was initially seen as a heterosexual marriage. In 1964, Jan came out as trans and began her transition. There were very few openly trans people at the time, so this will have made life especially challenging. Jan wrote about her experience of being trans in her book 'Conundrum', explaining that "I was three or perhaps four years old when I realized that I had been born into the wrong body, and should really be a girl."

A travel writer, one of Jan's most famous books was a 'biography' of Venice, which remains one of the most read books about the historic city. Jan's three volume of history of Britain, 'Pax Britannica', is another particularly well-known title. However, it is important not to overlook Jan's work as a journalist. It was Jan that reported on Edmund Hillary's expedition up Mount Everest in 1953. It was also Jan who, in 1956, was the first to provide proof of the collusion between France and Israel in invading Egyptian territory during the Suez crisis.

Jan remained a writer for her entire life, spending much of her time writing from her home in Wales where she lived with her wife and four children. She published her book 'Thinking Again' just a year before her death on 19th November 2020.

Vita Sackville-West

Victoria Sackville-West, known as Vita, was born in Kent on 9th March 1892. She was from a wealthy family and grew up at Knole House near Sevenoaks. Vita took great pride in the family home, which was famed for its 52 staircases. At the time, women were unable to inherit land and property, and this was a great source of distress to Vita.

Vita had a couple of different girlfriends as a teenager and young woman, and she kept in touch with both Rosalind and Violet into her adult life. In 1912, Vita met Harold Nicholson and they were soon married. They were both bi and were attracted to people of their own gender and of different genders. Vita and Harold both had boyfriends and girlfriends throughout the course of their marriage – this is something they had discussed and agreed with each other. Vita wrote about her relationship with Harold in 'Portrait of a marriage' in the 1920s, but this wasn't published until 1973. One of the things that Vita had hoped to achieve by writing the book was to help people to understand bi people and polyamorous relationships.

A writer with over 35 titles to her name, Vita was part of the 'Bloomsbury group'. This was a group of writers and creatives, many of whom were LGBT. Life was particularly challenging for LGBT people in the early twentieth century, because of societal attitudes as well as laws making it illegal for men to have sex with each other. At one point, Vita was in an intense relationship with the writer Virginia Woolf and it is thought that 'Orlando' was written about Vita.

Vita loved to travel and made frequent visits to France and Spain as well as to visit Harold when he was working in Iran (called Persia at the time). She sometimes wore stereotypically 'male' clothing, which was almost unheard of at the time due to societal attitudes towards rigid gender stereotypes and dress codes. Gardening was a particular passion of Vita's and she undertook a total renovation of the gardens at Sissinghurst Castle, which she bought with Harold in 1930. Vita is known for having tried new and experimental ideas in relation to horticulture. Harold and Vita lived at Sissinghurst with their two children, Nigel and Benedict.

In 1948, Vita was given a 'Companion of Honour' title by the Queen, for her services to literature. She spent her later years continuing to develop her garden and writing a weekly gardening column for The Observer. In 1955, she was awarded the gold Veitch medal by the Royal Horticultural Society. In 1962, Vita died.
